Correction for 'A review of crystalline silicon bifacial photovoltaic performance characterisation and simulation' by Tian Shen Liang et al., Energy Environ. Sci., 2019, DOI: 10.1039/c8ee02184h.

There were some typographical errors in the first paragraph of Section 4.6. Modelling software (pp. 26–33). The text should read: “Lo *et al.*²²² combined the capabilities of three simulation software packages: RADIANCE, SMARTS, and PC1D to model and optimise the performance of a bifacial PV module. The function of RADIANCE has been explained in Section 4.1.2.2. Developed by Gueymard,^{223,224} SMARTS is an open-source tool for simulating the solar irradiance spectrum based on given inputs such as geographical location, time, and local atmospheric parameters. The output from RADIANCE and SMARTS were imported into PC1D,^{225,226} which executes the electrical and thermal model. The process is summarised in Fig. 26.”
