The authors regret that there was an error in the introduction of the article. The following sentence and associated reference should not have been included as they refer to a different species to that studied in the article and, as such, the information is not relevant to the content of the article.

“There are many cultivars of CWC, such as the Japanese water chestnut (Trapa japonica), Chinese water chestnut (Trapa bicornis), princess water chestnut (Trapa incisa), devil water chestnut (Trapa natans), and natural cross-breeding varieties.⁷”

The Royal Society of Chemistry apologises for these errors and any consequent inconvenience to authors and readers.
