We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of Digital Discovery's reviewers for helping to preserve quality and integrity in chemical science literature.

We would also like to highlight the Outstanding Reviewers for Digital Discovery in 2022. Each one of our outstanding peer reviewers has been carefully selected by our editorial team and includes active researchers who have made significant contributions to peer review by providing exceptionally thorough and detailed reports and making additional efforts to aid authors in improving their manuscripts.
