Each one of our outstanding peer reviewers has been carefully selected by our editorial team as having made significant contributions to peer review. In addition to reviewers who provided a high number of quality reports, we are pleased to highlight reviewers who provided exceptionally thorough and detailed reports, reviewers who provided clear and insightful adjudicative reports and reviewers who made additional efforts to aid authors in improving their manuscripts.

“As a new journal, this is the first year that RSC Sustainability has officially recognised its Outstanding Reviewers. Our community of reviewers and the rigorous reviews they provide are the cornerstone of a robust peer review process, and as such I’d like to extend a big thank you to these Outstanding Reviewers and everyone else who has reviewed manuscripts for RSC Sustainability. We are actively looking to add new reviewers to our growing community, and we would be delighted to hear from any people, including early career researchers and post-docs, who are keen to support the journal through peer review. You can register your interest as a peer reviewer on this online form: <https://www.rsc.org/journals-books-databases/>

Outstanding Reviewers for RSC Sustainability in 2023

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of RSC Sustainability’s reviewers for helping to preserve quality and integrity in chemical science literature. We would also like to highlight the Outstanding Reviewers for RSC Sustainability in 2023.
